● Approval Criteria for Changing Designated School

The elementary or junior high school in which a child is enrolled is determined by the Board of Education based on the school-commuting areas set by the student's address. However, there are some cases where children who have difficulties enrolling in a designated school due to special conditions may be approved to enroll in a school other than a designated elementary or junior high school (changing designated school) by applying to the Board of Education.

The approval criteria for changing designated school are shown below.

1. Approval Criteria for Changing Designated School (For new enrollment in elementary schools)

Relative's house, etc.: Guardian's Certificate of Employment, Certificate of Childcare which is issued by relatives or childcare facilities, etc. Sendai City Children Club: Copy of Notice of Determination	School Affairs Section
②Sibling relationship In the case that any sibling in a family has been permitted to change their designated school (except for the reason of attending classes at a hospital), other siblings may also be given permission to attend the same school.		School Affairs Section

4. Revocation of Approval

Please note that approval for a designated school change will be revoked and your child must enroll in your designated school as determined by your residence area if a false application or document is submitted, or the reason for changing designated school has been lost.

*For further information about the above system, please contact the School Affairs Section (TEL: 022-214-8860).

© For International Schools
 Please be aware that schools which have their own curriculum such as international schools and the like are not considered as “compulsory education” and thus treated the same as miscellaneous schools or unaccredited educational institutions. Children with Japanese nationality who attend an international school are not considered to be taking Japanese compulsory education.

- Approved Areas to Change Designated School

Schools for your children are designated based on your address; however, you can choose schools in neighboring school districts by applying at the time of the child's school enrollment or transfer. Available areas are called the "Approved Areas to Change Designated School," and you will be notified via mail in October if you live in said areas.

The Approved Areas to Change Designated School are set through consultations with the relevant schools by applications from representatives of neighborhood associations or children clubs based on the consensus of residents of the community. If you would like an area to be newly set, there are various conditions that must be met. Therefore, please consult with the School Affairs Section through your neighborhood association in advance. When wanting your area to be considered for getting approved, you must begin consultations and discussions at least one year before the fiscal year in which you desire the area to be set, and an application must be submitted by October of the previous fiscal year.

- Change of School-commuting Areas (School Boundary Lines)

Each school has its own school boundary and commuting areas based on commuting distances, geographical conditions such as roads and rivers, and historical precedence based on the circumstances of the community.

If you need to change the school-commuting areas due to a change in the community's circumstances, please consult with the School Affairs Section through your neighborhood association which represents the consensus of the community. Changing school-commuting areas may not always be possible due to certain conditions such as the following: the commuting area must be adjacent to neighboring school districts, and existing facilities can accommodate the change, etc. Please make consultation arrangements as early as possible since the school-commuting areas changes profoundly affect various aspects such as school enrollment administrative work.

Commonly, application for the assistance system and its payment must be made after entering a school. Only the “Financial Assistance for Elementary School Entrants,” which is one of the assistance systems for expense items, can be provided in March before the enrollment of your child into school. In order to receive the payment, making a dedicated application and obtaining approval are required. For details, please visit the website of the Board of Education.
